EARLY SELECTIONS-GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.

FIRST CHOICE ARE THE BEST.

This is particularly true of DRESS GOODS and CLOAKS. With seven departments of Dress Goods and one immense department of Cloaks, we are in a position to meet the most exacting demands. No important style or color in either plain or novelty weave Dress Goods but what has a strong representation. No new shape, shade or material in Cloaks but what can be found in our enlarged Cloak Room, which, by the way, is on the ground floor—no stairs to climb. Many confined styles in both lines. In 50c Dress Goods alone, over 100 styles shown, including complete lines of the celebrated Jamestown Worsted Goods. Finer lines too diverse to permit description.

Velvets, Satins, Novelty Silks, Braid, Silk Beaver, Jet, Metal and other trimmings to match all Dress Goods.

A Sad Death.

M. Homer Liggett died at the resi dence of his parents at 905 Main street Saturday evening, aged twenty-five. He had been ill for several months. He was a clark in the Baltimore & Ohlo freight office, and a very popular and highly respected young man and a member of several organizations. The funeral will take place at 3 p. m. to-day, the remains being taken to Dayton, Ohio, for intermer t.

A Straige Find.

Aboutnoon yesterday Uounty Coroner Schultze was notified that the body of a baby had been found in the river near the mouth of the creek. He came up town a fonce, only to find that the body was in sloohol and sealed in a bottle. It had probably been lost or thrown away by a physician. Though a perfectly formed human body it was not over four inches long. No inquest was hald on it. held on it.

The Exchange Bank, The stockholders of the Exchange The stockholders of the Exchange Bank will meet at 2 p. m. to-day to decide whether the bank shall resume business. It is taken for granted that the decision will be to resume. It is understood that eaough of the depositors have accepted the directors proposition to make this course possible and proper. The outlook is very good for a continued career of increased usefulness on the part of this old institution.

At Clerk Hook's Office.

At Clerk Hook's Office.

A marriage license was issued Saturday in Clerk Hook's office, to like Handlesman, of Carroll county, O., a native of Austria, and Sarah Falter, of Newburg, O., aged 20 years, also a native of Austria.

A deed was left for record in Clerk Hook's office dated September 7, 1893, between Edward A. Higgins and wife, and Rose Sorg and Thomas Worhouse, for part of lot No. 118 in Orloft Zane's addition. Consideration, $1,800.

Faneral of William Sharp.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral of William Sharp, the well known Bellaire nailer, took place at Stonbeaville and was very largely attended. Rev. O. V. Stewart officiated. Members of Steubenville Commandery, Bellaire members of Hope Commandery, No. 26, of St. Clairsville, and the Stanton Club par-ticipated in the funeral procession. The ticipated in the funeral procession. The pall bearers were: W. H. McClinton, F. S. Spearman, Dr. R. Laughlin, of Steubenville; Edward Jones, William Abel, and T. J. Kelly, of Beltaire.

Abel, and T. J. Kelly, of Bellaire.

An Exaggerated Story.

The News of Saturday and again yesterday announced that Mr. John Ried, of Jacob street, whose name it misspelled, nad met with another accident Saturday, getting his foot caught in an elevator at the Wheeling Stamping works, of which he is foreman, and it added that a few months ago he had both legs broken. The fact is that Mr. Ried's foot was hart a week ago on Friday, and he has been laid up ever since. He never had but one leg broken, and that was in 1876, at the time of the Washington hall fire. He is getting along well after his recent accident, and these foolish reports naturally annoy him.

gSalvini To-night.

Young Alexander Salvini, who is to be seen at the Opera House this even-ing in "The Three Guardamen," throws the glamour of romance over every-thing he does. His dashing manners, his handsome person, his peculiar humor, even his slightly foreign accent, humor, even his slightly foreign secent, all give life to D'Airagnan as Dumas conceived him, and as he no doubtlived in the time of Louis XIII. Mr. Salvini has materially strengthened his company by the addition of Mr. William Redmundand, Miss Eleanor Morette, an actress who promises to take rank with the leaders, Augusta de Forrest as Lady de Winter, also shows excellent work. The entire company is capable of giving a smooth and effective performance of this swaggering drama of the French court. the French court.

The Musee's Second Week

The Musee's Second Week.

The People's Musee Theatre closed its initial week with a boom, and on today Manager. Lawler announces in cario hall "Paum Hasika," the one individual who has trained a den of alligators, and will appear with har strange pets, alligators, ligards, and snakes; Cleopatra and her flock of feathered actors; her trained birds are simply wonderful, and Ko Ko, the human salamander. On the theatorium stage Minnie Ross, the dashing serio comic, will sing the latest favorites. The famous Ravey twins, Dors and Cora, will introduce songs and dances which have made their names famous in the west. At the request of hundreds of patrons he has restained Master Harry, the boy medium; this will be his last appearance. Paus LaPetts will be there. He is a versatile comedian. The curio hall, the big stage show, no stairs to climb and cleap prices ought to draw. One dime admits to all; opera chairs five cents.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

An (Exciting Bunaway Saturday Evening in the City.

There was an exciting runaway Saturday avening that nearly resulted in serious injury to two young men. B. K. McMechen and Charles B. Ott were driving down Market street in the former's English cart, when at the corner of Fourteenth the horse became frightened at a passing electricarand dashed down the theroughfare. Mr. Ott jump-8d' from the cart, but Mr. McMechen hald his seat, hoping to regain control of the horse. At the corner of Main another electric car came around and he had to turn down on Main, or attempt to, as the horse didn't make the tern but went straight for the new Lange building. The horse fell partly into the cellar opening, while Mr. MoMechen was violently thrown from his seat and fell under the animal. It is a wonder that he was not killed. As soon as possible ne was extricated and it was found that with the exception of a lew bytiss he was unhurt. The horse was later taken out of the cellar. A large crowd soon gathered at the scene.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

A Young Man Thrown from a Buggy and Badly Hurt.

A Young Man Thrown from a Buggy and Bady Hart.

Charles R. Cooke, civil engineer, son of Rev. Dr. W. H. Cooke, had a very narrow escape Saturday afternoon in a runaway just above the Top mill. In company with E. R. Hitchcock he was driving up to the new city water works to make an inspection for Hallock Bros. The horse became badly frightened at a passing engine and started off on a mad gallop. Mr. Hitchcock, who was driving with one hand, attempted to pass the lines to Mr. Gooke, in doing so caused the animal to sware to one side, dashing Mr. Cooke head first into a pile of sharp pointed rocks. The lines being free, the animal continued his course for one and a-half miles before being checked by running into a telegraph pole, mashing the buggy. Mr. Hitchcock escaped without a scratch. Mr. Cooke, while having no bones broken, was note of ortunate as his companion, his head and left side being covered with one mass of cuts and bruises. The skin on his left check was cut in shreds and covered with blood. He was brought to the city and made as comportable as possible. Although able to move about last evening he was still suffering from the severe shock.

UNION MINERS' HALL

UNION MINERS' HALL

Dedicated at West Bridgeport Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon.

Saturday afternoon the new and commodious hall of the miners' union at West Bridgeport, built by the miners of the Wheeling Oreek coal works, was formally dedicated with impressive cermonies. There was a parade at 2 p. m., headed by Meister's band and an escort of police, and made up of G. A. R. veterans, American Mechanics, Sons of St. George, Knights of Golden Eagle, Local Union 13, United Miners. Thomas McGough acted as chief marshal. Arrived at the hall, seats and a platform were found outside, and here the meeting was held, Hon. J. C. Heinline, of Bridgeport, presiding. President McBriae, of the miners' national union, was the principal orator, and he made affine speech, commending the local organization for having procured this home, and advising all miners to do the same for themselves and their families. State Labor Commissioner Lewis, J. P. Jones, mine inspector, J. H. Bnrtt, of Wheeling, Rev. C. B. Henthorne and others also spoke, after which Mr. McBride farmally declared the hall dedicated to the uses for which it was built. In the evening a concert and entertainment was given in the ball, by the band and local talent. The exercises were successful and pleasing throughout.

The Jewish New Year.

The Jewish New Year.

The Jewish New Year began last evening and ends this evening. It is one of the most generally observed of their holidays, and will be celebrated in due form in Wheeling. Miss Hannehen Bonnheim favors the Internacional with the following timely lines:

TO MY PELLOW-ISHABILITES. May the Rosh Hasbanah sunshine Brightly beam upon you all! May to you throughout the New Year Naught but happiness befall!

May the sorrows and the worries Of the past year take their wing. And may each day of the future Joy and gladness to you bring!

May no storms e'er overtake you!
And if clouds must once be near,
May these clouds be quickly followe.
By the sunahine bright and clear!

May each day be filled with gladness:
Then, when once the end is near,
May all joyful cry and grateful,
"Thank God for this happy year!"

The Modera Beauty
Thrives on good food and sunshine,
with plenty of exercise in the open air.
Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy, she uses the gentle and pleasant liquid laxative Syrap of Firs.
